Hello,

My name is Davorin Jurković, and I am .NET developer with 5 years' experience in various application projects. I am sending you my CV for jobs in Sweden's IT industry.

Currently I am working in Serengeti (http://serengetitech.com) as designer and developer of information systems for client "GEUTEBRÜCK" (http://www.geutebrueck.com) on developing new features and fixing bugs in the software for video surveillance. At the same time, I am working for another client, Embassy Films (http://www.embassyfilms.com), as developer, on developing software for managing films crews.

I love new challenges and to learn new things. I decided to contact you because I already have experience and knowledge working on complex IT systems and I would like to improve my knowledge. I enjoy my work as a developer, tester and sometimes as a manager.

I believe that I can contribute to any company with all the knowledge and experience I have. So far, I have worked on many projects where thinking out of the box was required, and also I have experience in making executive decision that will complete the project within the set deadlines.

I hope that the information in my CV will be recognized as interesting. I will welcome the opportunity to personally present my qualities, interests and ambitions.

With respect
Davorin Jurković
